A Brief History

of the

Tokio Chamber of Commerce.

THE present Tokio Chamber of Commerce was established on the 12th January, 1891, pursuant to the provisions of the Regulations relating to Chamber of Commerce promulgated by Law No. 81, of the preceding year, but it is in substance a modified form of the TOKIO MERCHANTS' and MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION (Tokio Shoko Kai) which again was remodelled upon its predecessor, the Tokio Assembly of Merchants (Tokio Shoho Kaigisho). In relating the history of the present Tokio Chamber of Commerce, a brief reference to the Tokio Assembly of Merchants, which was first established in 1878, is found necessary.

It was forty six years ago that acting on the advice of the late Prince Ito, then the Minister of Home Affairs and the late Marquis Okuma, then the Minister of Finance, a number of the leading merchants of the City of Tokio, viz, Mr. (now Viscount) E. Shibusawa, Mr. (now Baron) T. Masuda, Mr. (now Baron) K. Okura and Five Others constituted themselves projectors for the establishment of the Tokio Assembly of Merchants. On the 27th of Dec., 1877, these gentlemen applied for permission to establish the said institution to the Governor of Tokio, Mr. (late Baron) M. Kusumoto, to whom they sent in its prospectus, by-laws, etc., from whom on the 13th of March following they obtained the required permission. The projectors' successful efforts to induce the prominent merchants of Tokio to join the membership resulted in the formation of the corporate body named the Tokio Assembly of Merchants (Tokio Shoho Kaigisho) with Mr. E. Shibusawa at its head. The matter to be investigated by the Assembly was divided into the three departments of Domestic Trade, Foreign Trade and Transport and Shipping, to which were afterwards added the two more departments of Industry and Agriculture; for each of which a special committee was appointed to perform the functions of inquiry and deliberation assigned to it. This was the Tokio Chamber of Commerce in its incipient stage, and for want of all laws and regulations relating to similar institutions at that time, its members were admitted only in the capacity of private individuals, and its expenditure was defrayed out of the funds contributed by the members themselves, which were supplemented by occasional but very insignificant grants from the Government, the institution thus remaining a purely private concern.

On the 16th of May, 1883, the Government decreed by Notification No. 13, of the now defunct Supreme Council (Dajokan) that it was permissible to establish Advisory Assembles for the Encouragement of Industry (Kangyo Shimon Kai) and to appoint Committees for the Encouragement of Industry (Kangyo Iin), and promulgated the nine articles of Standard Regulations for the organization of those functions. This notification was immediately carried into effect by the late Count A. Yoshikawa, then the Governor of Tokio, who called a meeting of the One Hundred Twenty Representatives of the various mercantile companies and other Associations in the City of Tokio, and prevailed upon the latter to establish a united Merchants and Manufacturers'

Association for the Fifteen urban districts of the City, comformably to the provisions of Articles 6 and 7 of the Notification referred to above, which ran as follows :—Article 6.—In the event of an Agricultural, a Commercial, or a Manufacturers' Association, or an Industrial Association representing the combined interests of Agriculture, Commerce and Manufacture, or a Guild being established in an Urban or a Rural District or associated Rural or Urban Districts, it is permissible to nominate the Committee for the Encouragement of Industry for its members ; Article 7.—Should the Governor of a City or Prefecture deem it necessary to appoint a Committee for the Encouragement of Industry and to establish the various associations mentioned in the preceeding Article, he may cause the same to be appointed or established with the permission of the Minister for Agriculture and Commerce. The Governor's proposal was unanimously approved by the representatives, and he accordingly nominated a Committee of organization consisting of Mr. E. Shibusawa and Five Others, who, after taking the necessary preliminary measures performed, on the Nov. 20th, 1883, the inauguratory ceremony of the New Association known by the name of the Tokio Merchants and Manufacturers' Association (Tokio Shoko Kai) when Mr. E. Shibusawa was elected President and other important measures decided upon. (The Tokio Assembly of Merchants resolved on Oct. 11th, 1883, to dissolve itself on the formation of the Tokio Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, and on the 21st of November following carried out the resolution by transferring its assets to its successor. The new Association was divided in its functions into (1) Deliberative, (2) Investigation, and (3) Reporting Departments, and rendered a significant service to the cause of Commerce and Industry by responding to inquiries submitted by the Government and also by representing its views to the latter.

The corporation included the representatives of the principal Companies and Associations in the City of Tokio and depended for its sustenance not upon the gifts of the representatives, but upon the regular contributions of those Companies and Associations and was, therefore, more public in its name compared with its predecessor, the Tokio Assembly of Merchants.

Six years later, in 1889, the Minister of Agriculture and Commerce after a general survey of the Tokio Merchants and Manufacturers' Association and similar institutions in other parts of the country, declared himself not satisfied with their organization and found the degree of their practical utility extremely limited, and with a view to improving their constitution engaged the same year in the drafting of new Regulations relating to Chambers of Commerce. Some of the then existing Associations concurred in his views, and the Tokio Merchants and Manufacturers' Association on August 26th, 1890, passed a resolution to the effect that " it is deemed highly beneficial to the interests of commerce to recognize by Law the establishment of Chambers of Commerce and make them self-governing organs of commerce." On the 11th of September following the Government published by Law No. 81, the Regulations relating to Chambers of Commerce, and on the 18th of the same month the Department of Agriculture and Commerce issued detailed rules for the enforcement of the above Regulations. Hereupon thirty-eight leading merchants of Tokio constituted themselves projectors for the establishment of a Chamber of Commerce in Tokio agreeably to the said Regulations and out of their own number elected Mr. E. Shibusawa and Six Others the committee for organization, who after taking necessary preliminary measures gave, on Dec. 15th, 1890, formal notice of the establishment of the Tokio Chamber of Commerce to the Minister of Agriculture and Commerce, and on Jan. 12th, 1891, obtained from the same Minister a written permission. The Governor of Tokio, on May 13th, 1891, in conformity to the provisions of the Regulations mentioned above, caused the members of the new Chamber to be elected, and after the elects were duly confirmed, the projectors opened its first meeting on the 28th of the same month and nominated a Committee for the compilation of its Rules. On the 24th, 25th and 26th June following, the Rules as compiled by the Committee were discussed and adopted, and on the 29th submitted to the Minister of Agriculture nnd Commerce, whose approval was obtained on July 7th. On the 17th of the same month Mr. Shibusawa was elected President, and after other necessary measures were settled, the Tokio Chamber of Commerce entered upon the third stage of its career, which is still continuing. (The Tokio Merchants and Manufacturers' Association resolved on Oct. 20th, 1890, to dissolve itself on the establishment of the Tokio Chamber of Commerce and to transfer its assets to the same Chamber, which resolution was carried out on Aug. 25th of the following year).

As will be seen from the foregoing, the present Tokio Chamber of Commerce, first came into existence in 1878, under the name of the Tokio Assembly of Merchants, underwent a change in its constitution in 1883 and re-named the Tokio Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, and in 1891 assumed its present form. It is now a public organization composed of members elected by the qualified electors in the City of Tokio from among those qualified for being elected, agreeable to the provisions of the Regulations relating to Chamber of Commerce, and depends for the supply of its expenditure upon the common contributions of the electors. Subjoined is an epitome of the constitution of the Chamber and a list of the present members.

A Brief History of the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

After the Regulations relating to Chamber of Commerce were first promulgated in Japan in 1890 by Law No. 81, Chambers of Commerce were established at various places in the country till in 1892 the number reached Fifteen. It having been thought desirable to open a general conference of the Chambers of Commerce in the whole country, at the suggestion of those in Osaka and ten other places, the first meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce was opened in Osaka in October, 1892, and it was then decided that a regular conference should be held once every year, the places successively chosen afterwards for that purpose being Kobe, Kanazawa, Nagoya, Hakata, Hiroshima, Yokohama and Tokio (it was decided in 1899 that the regular general meeting should be held in Tokio only). At present the Chambers of Commerce established in the Japan Proper in conformity to the Regulations relating thereto, reach Seventy-seven and those admitted to the meetings of the Associated Chambers of Commerce are Sixty-nine.

International Chamber of Commerce.

International Chamber of Commerce has been organized in Paris, France as the result of a conference held there in June 23 to 30, 1920. Leaders of Industry, Finance and Business from Belgium, France, Great Britain, Italy and the United States represented those respective countries.

When the London Conference was held in June 1921, it, in the name of its President, invited Japan to send Delegates. In response, it was arranged, under pressure of business, to have four representatives participate in the conference, each one of them being selected from London Offices of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, the Mitsubishi, the Sumitomo and the Suzuki Companies. Meantime, several meetings have been held among the Associated Chambers of Commerce in this Country and the decision arrived that the formal notice, advising joining, be given. It was on the 26th January this year that such a notice was given to the Headquarters of the International Chamber at Paris and a reply of acceptance, dated 17th April, reached here in due course.

It may further be stated that our Embassies in London and Paris advised, from time to time, the progress of conference, apparently wishing the Japanese Chambers of Commerce to be kept in touch with it.
